One painting, oil on canvas, representing View of Florence and the Arno at Ponte Santa Trinita, by Giuseppe Zocchi (1711 - 1767). Florentine School. Framed.
The drawing for the present painting, together with other views of the city and villas around Florence, is conserved at the Morgan Library, New York. From these same drawings was derived a celebrated two-volume folio of engravings. This particular view was engraved by Franceschini.
Three other paintings by Zocchi from this series have so far been identified.
